

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A threader for a wipe dispenser is initially attached to the lid of the wipe dispenser for a continuous roll of wipes. The threader has a handle at one end and a snag at the other. When the wipe dispenser is first opened, the threader is removed from the lid. The snag is 5 inserted into the wipe dispenser. The threader is manipulated to allow the snag to come into contact with the first wipe on the continuous roll of wipes. The threader is then pulled from the wipe dispenser, pulling the first wipe from the wipe dispenser. The threader is then returned to the lid for later use.
